School of Health Sciences (UG programmes – PG Programmes – PhD)

The KU School of Health Sciences at Kaziranga University is an outcome of collaboration with Apollo Medskills Ltd. (AMSL) to develop and promote health education for the students of the region. Kaziranga University has signed an MOU with Apollo Medskills through which students can do their internships, projects & avail placement opportunities at Apollo group of hospitals and their partners. The School comes at a very appropriate time when there is a need for the expansion of the professional health care sector not only in the North East but throughout the country as well. With the shortage of skilled health professionals in the region and the country, the students pursuing courses under School of Health Sciences will have huge job opportunities.

Career opportunities for healthcare professionals include working in laboratories, investigating diseases, dealing directly or indirectly with patients to help them cure etc. A health science graduate can practice in public hospitals, private clinics, blood banks, dialysis unit, Radiodiagnostic centre, community health centres, research organisations, government agencies etc. They can work as optometrists, physiotherapists, OT Assistant/Anaesthesia Assistant, Laboratory Technologist/Manager, Radiographer, health educators, health inspectors, Medical coder, social workers and freelancers etc.
